

Disclosure Statement

Pablo Loschi

Who Gets the House? Related-Party Transfers and the Cash–Mortgage Price Gap in New York City

Author declarations confirmed 10 September 2026; included in the 28 September 2026 version 3.3.

I am an independent researcher based in Berlin, Germany. This research received no external funding. I have no relevant financial interests or positions to disclose. No outside party has the right to review this research before its dissemination.

The manuscript is not currently under review elsewhere.

Generative AI tools (OpenAI's ChatGPT and Codex, Anthropic's Claude and Google's Gemini) assisted with drafting, literature checking, code development and replication review. I remain responsible for the manuscript, interpretations, citations and release decisions. The paper explicitly identifies unresolved record-classification and original-data reconstruction limitations.

The analysis uses public administrative records. It is not a randomized controlled trial or a survey. No ethics-board approval or exemption number is asserted in this statement.

Contact: loschi.pablo@gmail.com